IN MEMORIAM

In sad, sweet memory of Precious Patricia M. Hyde, who passed on. July 30.

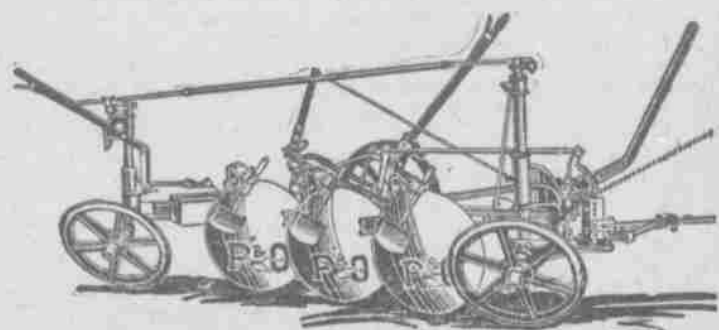

In a love painted temple of sweet Memory's jewelled Hall, There glows a baby's vision— In beauty and radiance it dims them all.

Out from a tiny burnished frame Bubbles of baby's laughter again, Her brownish curls all golden Words like a pedal organ olden; Then the patter of little pink feet, On paths where tangled sunbeams meet,

In the garden where dew-drenched roses greet, Those silver chimes from baby's lips The warm kisses on her finger tips, Eyes as soft and dark as the ages— A gift from God, kissed by wisdom's pages.

It was near two short years in all She twined the picture in Hearts and Memories Hall, Till life's twilight hours end— And then with her arms around me twine Again I shall whisper, "Precious Patricia, Mine." (Sadly missed by all.)

BREAK YOUR Wheat Land EARLY

IT IS GENERAL OPINION THAT YOU WHEAT LAND SHOULD BE BROKE BEFORE AUGUST THE FIFTEENTH. YOU CAN BEST DO THIS BY USING THE BEST, LATEST IMPROVED LABOR-SAVING IMPLEMENTS

THE P. & O. POWER-LIFT DISK TRACTOR PLOWS HAVE THREE VERY IMPORTANT FEATURES:

FIRST: SIMPLICITY. Before a P. & O. Plow emerges from the experimental department it undergoes every possible test for the elimination of every piece that may be dispensed with, and still secure adjustments necessary to meet varying soil conditions.

SECOND: STRENGTH. Secured by the employment of material heavy enough to avoid straining, and in the care of casting, the necessary ribbing and thickness to withstand breaking. Strength is also a result of simple methods of construction, as every addition piece add to the weakness of any structure.

THIRD: EASE OF OPERATION. The proper shapes of the disk, the hardening and polishing process, the position and length of levers, the power lifts, the counterbalancing, and in fact, all those seemingly small things which are so essential to perfection, are to be found on P. & O. Plows.

It will be to your advantage to know more about the P. & O. Power-Lift Disk Tractor Plows. Come in and talk it over.
